Relief

Continued from page A1

Thomas said he was friends who live along the Jersey Shore, each of whom have felt some of the effects of the storm, but as one teen who

Continued from page A1

committed 10 percent

Thomas said he has friends who live along the New Jersey Shore, and several of whom have felt some of the effects of the storm. He said he had a

"I loved in Florida and I know what devastation does to people. I'm trying to do my part. I'll do whatever it takes to help out," he said.

Thomas said he stayed in Cape May after Sandy and now he's part of the relief effort. "I really felt that was what we were supposed to do." He decided to get involved in the relief effort, but it's important for everyone to do something to help.

"A restore the shore kind of thing," said Thomas. He called on people to come together and do something to help.

"I live in Florida and I know what devastation does to people. I'm trying to do my part. I'll do whatever it takes to help out," Thomas said.

Thomas said he was friends who live along the Jersey Shore, each of whom have felt some of the effects of the storm, but as one teen who

Continued from page A1

committed 10 percent

Thomas said he has friends who live along the New Jersey Shore, and several of whom have felt some of the effects of the storm. He said he had a

"I loved in Florida and I know what devastation does to people. I'm trying to do my part. I'll do whatever it takes to help out," he said.

Thomas said he stayed in Cape May after Sandy and now he's part of the relief effort. "I really felt that was what we were supposed to do." He decided to get involved in the relief effort, but it's important for everyone to do something to help.

"A restore the shore kind of thing," said Thomas. He called on people to come together and do something to help.

"I live in Florida and I know what devastation does to people. I'm trying to do my part. I'll do whatever it takes to help out," Thomas said.

Thomas said he was friends who live along the Jersey Shore, each of whom have felt some of the effects of the storm, but as one teen who

Continued from page A1

committed 10 percent

Thomas said he has friends who live along the New Jersey Shore, and several of whom have felt some of the effects of the storm. He said he had a

"I loved in Florida and I know what devastation does to people. I'm trying to do my part. I'll do whatever it takes to help out," he said.

Thomas said he stayed in Cape May after Sandy and now he's part of the relief effort. "I really felt that was what we were supposed to do." He decided to get involved in the relief effort, but it's important for everyone to do something to help.

"A restore the shore kind of thing," said Thomas. He called on people to come together and do something to help.

"I live in Florida and I know what devastation does to people. I'm trying to do my part. I'll do whatever it takes to help out," Thomas said.

Thomas said he was friends who live along the Jersey Shore, each of whom have felt some of the effects of the storm, but as one teen who

Continued from page A1

committed 10 percent

Thomas said he has friends who live along the New Jersey Shore, and several of whom have felt some of the effects of the storm. He said he had a

"I loved in Florida and I know what devastation does to people. I'm trying to do my part. I'll do whatever it takes to help out," he said.

Thomas said he stayed in Cape May after Sandy and now he's part of the relief effort. "I really felt that was what we were supposed to do." He decided to get involved in the relief effort, but it's important for everyone to do something to help.

"A restore the shore kind of thing," said Thomas. He called on people to come together and do something to help.

"I live in Florida and I know what devastation does to people. I'm trying to do my part. I'll do whatever it takes to help out," Thomas said.

Thomas said he was friends who live along the Jersey Shore, each of whom have felt some of the effects of the storm, but as one teen who

Continued from page A1

committed 10 percent

Thomas said he has friends who live along the New Jersey Shore, and several of whom have felt some of the effects of the storm. He said he had a

"I loved in Florida and I know what devastation does to people. I'm trying to do my part. I'll do whatever it takes to help out," he said.

Thomas said he stayed in Cape May after Sandy and now he's part of the relief effort. "I really felt that was what we were supposed to do." He decided to get involved in the relief effort, but it's important for everyone to do something to help.

"A restore the shore kind of thing," said Thomas. He called on people to come together and do something to help.

"I live in Florida and I know what devastation does to people. I'm trying to do my part. I'll do whatever it takes to help out," Thomas said.

Thomas said he was friends who live along the Jersey Shore, each of whom have felt some of the effects of the storm, but as one teen who

Continued from page A1

committed 10 percent

Thomas said he has friends who live along the New Jersey Shore, and several of whom have felt some of the effects of the storm. He said he had a

"I loved in Florida and I know what devastation does to people. I'm trying to do my part. I'll do whatever it takes to help out," he said.

Thomas said he stayed in Cape May after Sandy and now he's part of the relief effort. "I really felt that was what we were supposed to do." He decided to get involved in the relief effort, but it's important for everyone to do something to help.

"A restore the shore kind of thing," said Thomas. He called on people to come together and do something to help.

"I live in Florida and I know what devastation does to people. I'm trying to do my part. I'll do whatever it takes to help out," Thomas said.