Baby New Year is a little coastie

CAPTAIN'S LOG

Baby New Year is a little coastie

The Meeks family at Cape Regional Medical Center.

The first night of instruction in swing dancing, from 7 to 8 p.m., when Winter Wonderland Dance on Jan. 26.

Pacevich said they are asking DJs to bring their resumes to the school. They also asked if anyone knows of someone who is a professional dance instructor, they can contact Pacevich.

The second night of instruction will be on Tuesday, Jan. 22, from 7 to 8 p.m. When students will be teaching other students what they learned on the first night.

Pacevich said the bottom line is he is trying to teach the dance instruction will result in more appropriate dances on school dances. He said it might even bring more people to the dance because people are dancing and having fun.

Asked how the school administrators responded to this idea, Pacevich said, "They were loving the idea and thought it would take charge of this." Pacevich said there is an issue of suggestive dance at school sponsored dances, which he called "inappropriate grinding." He said he doesn't mean that in a sexual way, but that it is not the only one breded to it. "I surveyed some of the student body, and a group of parents said they didn't plan on going to the school dance because they felt uncomfortable and pressured," Pacevich said.

Pacevich said there has to be an appreciation for the passion in the group of people who want to have the dance.

On Wednesday, Jan. 9, the assembly asked for volunteers for their music committee.

The process of acquiring all the land there," he said.

Mahaney said the goal was to create a sustainable and passive recreation site, with something for all ages. He said the city acquired $1.5 million in Green Acres and Blue Acres funding to acquire property for the Lafayette Street project.

Mahaney also referred to the acquisition of over 76 acres of what he described as a pristine wildlife sanctuary and community park. He said the city acquired $4.4 million for the city's share of the project.

Mahaney touched on water supply, a key component, in light of the recent LTMUA application for new wells. He said the city is in the process of acquiring over 78 acres of what he described as a pristine wildlife sanctuary and community park. He said the city acquired $4.4 million for the city's share of the project.

Mahaney touched on water supply, a key component, in light of the recent LTMUA application for new wells. He said the city is in the process of acquiring over 78 acres of what he described as a pristine wildlife sanctuary and community park. He said the city acquired $4.4 million for the city's share of the project.