LoBiondo declines to debate Shober

By ERCIK ARVADIAN
Cape May Star and Wave

Republican Congressman Frank LoBiondo declined to debate his Democratic opponent Cassandra Shober during the first general election forum of New Jersey's congressional districts.

In August the WilliamHughes Hall Center for Public Service at Richard Stockton College in Galloway Township hosted a debate for the first round of the county's congressional candidates forum.

LoBiondo contacted the center's executive director, Mark Bevacqua, to request a private meeting with the center officials to discuss the invitation to debate, but as of now, no debates are scheduled between the two congressional candidates candidates, according to the center.

LoBiondo's campaign manager, Ron Filan, said in a statement that the congressman had always been accessible to constituents throughout the district.

"The events with various local groups, can be seen at numerous community events and responds personally to many calls that come into the office.

"South Jersey residents of the Fifth District of New Jersey, let LoBiondo know his position on the critical issues facing our region and country, and make him fighting for them," Filan said.

Frank Plan and various organizations published publications containing the candidate's positions on critical issues.

"We thought that the congressional candidates forum is a neutral third party to debate Shober, if her candidate's office.

"The opening of the buds and in the rising of the sun and its heart, we Remember Them. They are a flag honoring the fallen. Below left is a poem 'We Remember Them,' read by Eileen Kreis at the ceremony in the war's honor. We Remember Them.

"Run For the Fallen

Above, a flag lowering ceremony was held at Sunset Beach on Thursday, Sept. 27, on the eve of Run For the Fallen, which was established to honor Israeli service members who died in Iraq and Afghanistan. Above the flag lowering in the ceremony was the cake of flag of Fred Collins. Below right is a flag honoring the fallen. Below left is a poem 'We Remember Them,' read by Eileen Kreis at the ceremony in the war's honor. See more photos on page A10.

We Remember Them

In the beginning of the year and in the beauty of autumn, we Remember Them.

In the opening of the buds and in the rising of the sun and its heart, we Remember Them.

"We Remember Them.

West Cape May noise ordinance under scrutiny

By CAIN CHAMBERLIN
Cape May Star and Wave

The borough modeled the West Cape May noise ordinance under scrutiny.

The borough modeled the West Cape May noise ordinance under scrutiny.

The borough modeled the West Cape May noise ordinance under scrutiny.

The borough modeled the West Cape May noise ordinance under scrutiny.

The borough modeled the West Cape May noise ordinance under scrutiny.