New council reversed additions to ROSI list.

By JACOB FICHER
Capay May Star and Wave

One million New Jersey residents have registered to get the COVID-19 vaccine.

As of Monday morning, the state had vaccinated just shy of 200,000 people.

The state’s statistics run through Tuesday, according to the governor’s website.

On Monday, 196,000 New Jerseyans received their first dose, bringing the total to 21,748,423 doses administered.

The information hub can be found at ShoreMedicalCenter.org.

One million residents have registered to get the COVID-19 vaccine.

The website for the state’s vaccination program is www.shoremedicinc.com.

On Monday, the state announced that it had vaccinated 196,000 New Jerseyans.

The information hub can be found at ShoreMedicalCenter.org.

The website for the state’s vaccination program is www.shoremedicinc.com.

One million residents have registered to get the COVID-19 vaccine.

The website for the state’s vaccination program is www.shoremedicinc.com.

The information hub can be found at ShoreMedicalCenter.org.

The website for the state’s vaccination program is www.shoremedicinc.com.