several newborn dolphin founder Bob Schoelkopf, Mammal Stranding Center the dolphins. situation and photograph from the Marine Mammal Stranding Center of ashore here. Volunteers past eight weeks, two dead dolphins. According to Marine CAPE MAY — In the Cape May Star and Wave
Wednesday June 26, 2019
The Harrison Room at Congress Hall
Job Fair
NOW HIRING!
Seasonal & Year-Round Job Opportunities/CapeCares.com 10am-Noon 4pm-6pm
The Harrison Room at Congress Hall
Basement out in latest three public safety building plans High water table prevents underground construction
By JACK FICHTER
CAPE MAY — Early concept plans for a new public safety building to house the city's police and fire departments included a basement, but following test borings it was determined the water table was so high, precluding a basement. At a June 11 meeting of the Public Safety Building Advisory Committee, Andrew Adendorf, of USA architects, said a partial third floor has been substituted for a basement in the new building.

He said since the community's last meeting, he has spoken with Fire Chief Alex Calloway to discuss the issue.
He said the services of the department's needs in the new building. Three proposed floor plans were presented to the commitee.
The exact size of the building had not been Adendorf said the conceptual plans range from 15,000 square feet to 30,000 square feet. Site plans have been updated for all these options for the building, including easements and rights of way that are important in defining the best possible place to build.
You can pretty much maintain your existing public safety building," he said.
Architect David Bednar said option one kept the current fire station as the building's front and razed the rear of the station and U.S. Marine Corps building, then added the new building.
"We made a decision about where we were going to be building the public safety building to house the police department and the fire departmant's antique firetruck.

Options one has the buildingolated by both the two departments. Bednar said it

"This is to show the percentile Way down, it is going to be dif-Reduced to 25 mph.

"If we have enforcement and the study was to take place, County police enforcement be strategically placed along a stretch of Broadway. This is not to police enforcement be strategically placed along a stretch
of Broadway. This is not to
police enforcement be strategically placed along a stretch
of Broadway. This is not to
police enforcement be strategically placed along a stretch
of Broadway. This is not to
police enforcement be strate-

"Ready, aim, fire!

At top, Bob Solars, creator of the Fourth Connecticut Regiment, orders his soldiers to fire June 5 during Military Timeline Weekend at Historic Cold Spring Village in Lower Township. The event featured encampments, weaponry displays and demonstrations from living-history groups depicting various conflicts throughout the cemetery. Clockwise from above, Aiden Rodriguez and Matthew Jefferson representing the Vietnam War and Nico Douglas representing the Civil War; Robert Keith; of Battey of the Fourth U.S. Artillery, talks a breed; and Robin Solitro and Jill Bennett, of the Fourth Connecticut Regiment, prepare a meal.

Experts: Dead dolphins not unusual this time of year
By JOHN ALVAREZ
West Cape May wants speed limit reduction on parts of Broadway
By JOHN ALVAREZ
Special to the Star and Wave
WEST CAPE MAY — Following a fatal accident at Broadway and York Avenue last month, the county will conduct a speed limit study
in Lower Township. The event featured encampments, weaponry displays and demonstrations from living-history
groups depicting various conflicts throughout the cemetery. Clockwise from above, Aiden Rodriguez and Matthew Jefferson representing the Vietnam War and Nico Douglas representing the Civil War; Robert Keith; of Battey
of the Fourth U.S. Artillery, talks a breed; and Robin Solitro and Jill Bennett, of the Fourth Connecticut Regiment,
prepare a meal.

Experts: Dead dolphins not unusual this time of year
By JOHN ALVAREZ
West Cape May wants speed limit reduction on parts of Broadway
By JOHN ALVAREZ
Special to the Star and Wave
WEST CAPE MAY — Following a fatal accident at
Broadway and York Avenue
last month, the county will
conduct a speed limit study
in Lower Township. The event featured encampments, weaponry displays and demonstrations from living-history
groups depicting various conflicts throughout the cemetery. Clockwise from above, Aiden Rodriguez and Matthew Jefferson representing the Vietnam War and Nico Douglas representing the Civil War; Robert Keith; of Battey
of the Fourth U.S. Artillery, talks a breed; and Robin Solitro and Jill Bennett, of the Fourth Connecticut Regiment,
prepare a meal.

Experts: Dead dolphins not unusual this time of year
By JOHN ALVAREZ
West Cape May wants speed limit reduction on parts of Broadway
By JOHN ALVAREZ
Special to the Star and Wave
WEST CAPE MAY — Following a fatal accident at
Broadway and York Avenue
last month, the county will
conduct a speed limit study
in Lower Township. The event featured encampments, weaponry displays and demonstrations from living-history
groups depicting various conflicts throughout the cemetery. Clockwise from above, Aiden Rodriguez and Matthew Jefferson representing the Vietnam War and Nico Douglas representing the Civil War; Robert Keith; of Battey
of the Fourth U.S. Artillery, talks a breed; and Robin Solitro and Jill Bennett, of the Fourth Connecticut Regiment,
prepare a meal.

Experts: Dead dolphins not unusual this time of year
By JOHN ALVAREZ
West Cape May wants speed limit reduction on parts of Broadway
By JOHN ALVAREZ
Special to the Star and Wave
WEST CAPE MAY — Following a fatal accident at
Broadway and York Avenue
last month, the county will
conduct a speed limit study
in Lower Township. The event featured encampments, weaponry displays and demonstrations from living-history
groups depicting various conflicts throughout the cemetery. Clockwise from above, Aiden Rodriguez and Matthew Jefferson representing the Vietnam War and Nico Douglas representing the Civil War; Robert Keith; of Battey
of the Fourth U.S. Artillery, talks a breed; and Robin Solitro and Jill Bennett, of the Fourth Connecticut Regiment, prepare a meal.