CAPE MAY — Mayor Gene Millar's retirement at the turn of the year is causing a shake-up in the city council. KOLL says he not only decided to disrupt the majority of council's discussion and announced at the last council meeting. Her announcement had all my employees spent thinking I was being fired, and also many called from the public schools. Why are you leaving? You're doing a fantastic job.

He said he met weeks ago with Baldwin and Koll saying that Baldwin stated she wanted to advertise for the city manager position because Voll's contract stipulated a 10-month construction period, but it ended up being a little bit longer, so it accounts for replacing the 23-year-old roof, heating and cooling, and a category 4 hurricane in 1821.
