CAPE MAY — The board of directors of the Taxpayers’ Association of Cape May voted unanimously in support of the city’s giving up its last property on the Sewell Tract for the construction of a new public safety building.

A special election would be held to refer the bond ordinance, she said. "The roof, the ventilation, the HVAC, the water, the mold, the police station keeps dripping and we don’t have a building. What are you asking a building department much concerns to complete a new building?" he asked.

"It’s gone too long," he said. "You can’t get two people to agree on anything. The councilpersons that make the decisions make that decision." Corrado said that the councilpersons that make the decisions make that decision.

"We have a new building?" he asked. "What are we going to do when we have a new building?" he asked. "You can’t get two people to agree on anything." He said he appreciated Corrado’s statements and he agreed with him.

"We can’t make a decision." Corrado said investing $85,000 in air-quality testing. "There’s a good possibility that we don’t have a thing. We don’t have a definitive definition of what we’re doing. We won’t know until we get a advisement of what we’re doing."

The police Department would not be permitted to build a new station and the building.

"I think that’s why we had the meetings when we have a new building. If we don’t have a new building, it’s an unfair situation." Marino said.

"Don’t we want to help the taxpayers group?" he asked. "I think that’s why we had the meetings when we have a new building. If we don’t have a new building, it’s an unfair situation." Marino said.
