Erma Fire Company, with assistance from multiple other fire companies including Cape May and Phyila Court House, answered the call at 8 p.m. on July 17 in a fire in two rooms at the Cabin City Motel at 756 Route 9 in Erma. According to Fire Chief Dave Lepor, the second-floor end unit was the Cabin City Motel at 756 Route 9 in Erma. According to

“By 2014, nearly 2 million opioids were supplied around the United States. Today, we estimate that every day 80 to 90 people in the United States die due to an overdose on opioids. According to the lawsuit, the federal government has paid billions in settlement funds to Purdue, including more than $260 million in a 2017 settlement with the United States, as well as $8 billion, split among 23 states and the District of Columbia, as part of a broader settlement with that opioid manufacturer in 2019. Purdue is continuing to pay $80 million annually to settle claims related to OxyContin.”
