West Cape May environmental board proposes pesticide ban

BY JACK FICHTER
Cape May Star and Wave

WEST CAPE MAY — The borough is surveying residents to see whether they would support a ban on pesticides.

Mayor Chris Gillin-Schwartz said the ordinance is based on the Environmental Commission’s recommendations from the Environmental Communications offers to help horse owners vaccinate against deadly diseases.

There are several different vaccines and vaccine packages offered to horse owners. Some are annual vaccinations, while others are given every five years.

In the northern part of the country on April 14, offering vaccinations at reduced prices to horse owners and without the usual sales call fee.

The clinic is coordinated under the direction of the 4-H volunteers at the Cape May County 4-H Spring Equine Health Clinic. This will be held on Saturday, April 14 at the Cape May County 4-H Spring Equine Health Clinic.

The clinic will offer vaccines against several diseases, including Eastern equine encephalitis and West Nile virus. These diseases spread quickly by biting insects but can be prevented through proper vaccination.

There are several different vaccines and vaccine packages offered to horse owners. The clinic also offers the Coginaga blood test, a negative Coginaga test for potential buyers of young stock.

Participants must pre-register by April 1 for this event. The event will be held on Saturday, April 14 at the Cape May County 4-H Spring Equine Health Clinic.

Visitors and hotel owners are asked what transportation service would be provided to the show.

The county is recommencing some Streets in the city such as Ladybelle Street and Philadelphia Avenue. The Department of Public Works will not have any input on the removal of trees from the projects.

Mayor said: “We are very socious about trees being taken down, especially streets on certain roadways.” Mayor said. Cape May is designated a Tree City U.S.A. by the Arbor Day Founda-

Cape May County 4-H Spring Equine Health Clinic

Published Weekly (5 days a year)
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE: By mail or 433 44 55 66 77 88 99 00 11 22 33 44 55 66 77 88 99 00 dollars. Periodical Rate Change.
POSTMASTER: Please address changes to the Cape May Star and Wave, P.O. Box 2427, Cape May, N.J. 08204.

Dr. Charles Roche has over 15 years of Internal Medicine and Primary Care experience. Prior to joining Cape Regional, he served as Lead Physician in a large multi-specialty Internal Medicine practice as well as the Chief Medical Information Officer for a medical center in Southern New Jersey.

• Board Certified: Internal Medicine

• Medical School: Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, PA.

• Residency in Internal Medicine: Christiana Care Health System, Newark, DE.

• Undergraduate Studies: Saint Joseph’s College, Philadelphia, PA.

Dr. Roche will see patients in Stone Harbor and Cape May.

See our website for more information.

Edward Jones

New job, new retirement planning

Chang, John C, CFP®

• Leave the money in your previous employer’s plan
• Keep it in your current employer’s plan
• Roll it into an Individual Retirement Account (IRA)
• Cash it out. The tax subject to early withdrawal penalties.

We can talk through your financial goals and the options that would work for you.

Financial Advisor

Allison K Kruse

(856) 367-2000

Edward Jones

2017 Bridge Road

Stone Harbor, NJ 08247

www.edwardjones.com