Henry Fonda. Lower Cape "12 Angry Men," starring movie poster for the 1957 film is on their mind," touted the case. Others around to their view of and is determined to bring the believes the accused is guilty all but one member of the jury numbers, debate the guilt or referred to only by their juror jury room as the characters, performance, Page A2

Cape May honors heroes at war memorial

Students from Eileen Oleksiak-Hall’s third-grade class at Maud Abrams School dressed in uniforms of our nation’s armed forces from different eras, each reading a brief description of the branch they represented.

"We are veterans one and all, we stand for freedom proud and tall," the students recited in unison.

The third-graders led the crowd in the “Star-Spangled Banner” and recited portions of the Declaration of Independence.

Director John Alvarez designed the honor guard from Cape Guard Training Center Cape May also participated in the event.

Cape May Point Convention Center submitted the 50th anniversary of the Civil War, the 70th anniversary of World War II and the 40th anniversary of the Vietnam War. He said more than 750,000 American soldiers lost their lives in the Vietnam War, but today Vietnam is an ally of our country.

"It is a nightmare for someone on jury duty when all but one member of the jury and is determined to bring the others around to their view of the case.

"Lies in their hands, death burns with anger as the deliberation goes on," signed the movie poster for the 1957 film "12 Angry Men," starring Henry Fonda. Lower Cape May Regional High School is bringing the play to its stage.

Two casts of Lower Cape students tackle ‘12 Angry Men’ Nov. 19-22

Director John Alvarez designed the honor guard from Cape Guard Training Center Cape May also participated in the event.

Cape May Point Convention Center submitted the 50th anniversary of the Civil War, the 70th anniversary of World War II and the 40th anniversary of the Vietnam War. He said more than 750,000 American soldiers lost their lives in the Vietnam War, but today Vietnam is an ally of our country.

"It is a nightmare for someone on jury duty when all but one member of the jury and is determined to bring the others around to their view of the case.

"Lies in their hands, death burns with anger as the deliberation goes on," signed the movie poster for the 1957 film "12 Angry Men," starring Henry Fonda. Lower Cape May Regional High School is bringing the play to its stage.

The action takes place in a jury room as the characters, referred to only by their juror numbers, debate the guilt or innocence of a 19-year-old man, living in slums, accused of stabbing his father to death.

In rehearsals last weekend, the male version of the play was running about 10 minutes longer than the female cast.

In rehearsals last weekend, the male version of the play was running about 10 minutes longer than the female cast.

The one-act play will be performed three nights. He said it brings a different perspective to the story.

Cape May honors heroes at war memorial

Students from Eileen Oleksiak-Hall’s third-grade class at Maud Abrams School dressed in uniforms of our nation’s armed forces from different eras, each reading a brief description of the branch they represented.

"We are veterans one and all, we stand for freedom proud and tall," the students recited in unison.

The third-graders led the crowd in the “Star-Spangled Banner” and recited portions of the Declaration of Independence.

Director John Alvarez designed the honor guard from Cape Guard Training Center Cape May also participated in the event.

Cape May Point Convention Center submitted the 50th anniversary of the Civil War, the 70th anniversary of World War II and the 40th anniversary of the Vietnam War. He said more than 750,000 American soldiers lost their lives in the Vietnam War, but today Vietnam is an ally of our country.

"It is a nightmare for someone on jury duty when all but one member of the jury and is determined to bring the others around to their view of the case.

"Lies in their hands, death burns with anger as the deliberation goes on," signed the movie poster for the 1957 film "12 Angry Men," starring Henry Fonda. Lower Cape May Regional High School is bringing the play to its stage.

The action takes place in a jury room as the characters, referred to only by their juror numbers, debate the guilt or innocence of a 19-year-old man, living in slums, accused of stabbing his father to death.

In rehearsals last weekend, the male version of the play was running about 10 minutes longer than the female cast.

The one-act play will be performed three nights. He said it brings a different perspective to the story.

Cape May honors heroes at war memorial

Students from Eileen Oleksiak-Hall’s third-grade class at Maud Abrams School dressed in uniforms of our nation’s armed forces from different eras, each reading a brief description of the branch they represented, during Cape May’s Veterans Day ceremony Nov. 11. Below, Movies Holland and Ron Stevens raise the flag.

Cape May honors heroes at war memorial

Students from Eileen Oleksiak-Hall’s third-grade class at Maud Abrams School dressed in uniforms of our nation’s armed forces from different eras, each reading a brief description of the branch they represented, during Cape May’s Veterans Day ceremony Nov. 11. Below, Movies Holland and Ron Stevens raise the flag.

Cape May honors heroes at war memorial

Students from Eileen Oleksiak-Hall’s third-grade class at Maud Abrams School dressed in uniforms of our nation’s armed forces from different eras, each reading a brief description of the branch they represented, during Cape May’s Veterans Day ceremony Nov. 11. Below, Movies Holland and Ron Stevens raise the flag.

Cape May honors heroes at war memorial

Students from Eileen Oleksiak-Hall’s third-grade class at Maud Abrams School dressed in uniforms of our nation’s armed forces from different eras, each reading a brief description of the branch they represented, during Cape May’s Veterans Day ceremony Nov. 11. Below, Movies Holland and Ron Stevens raise the flag.

Cape May honors heroes at war memorial

Students from Eileen Oleksiak-Hall’s third-grade class at Maud Abrams School dressed in uniforms of our nation’s armed forces from different eras, each reading a brief description of the branch they represented, during Cape May’s Veterans Day ceremony Nov. 11. Below, Movies Holland and Ron Stevens raise the flag.

Cape May honors heroes at war memorial

Students from Eileen Oleksiak-Hall’s third-grade class at Maud Abrams School dressed in uniforms of our nation’s armed forces from different eras, each reading a brief description of the branch they represented, during Cape May’s Veterans Day ceremony Nov. 11. Below, Movies Holland and Ron Stevens raise the flag.

Cape May honors heroes at war memorial

Students from Eileen Oleksiak-Hall’s third-grade class at Maud Abrams School dressed in uniforms of our nation’s armed forces from different eras, each reading a brief description of the branch they represented, during Cape May’s Veterans Day ceremony Nov. 11. Below, Movies Holland and Ron Stevens raise the flag.

Cape May honors heroes at war memorial

Students from Eileen Oleksiak-Hall’s third-grade class at Maud Abrams School dressed in uniforms of our nation’s armed forces from different eras, each reading a brief description of the branch they represented, during Cape May’s Veterans Day ceremony Nov. 11. Below, Movies Holland and Ron Stevens raise the flag.