Christmas cheer lights up the night

As part of the holiday preview weekend, the Mid-Atlantic Center for the Arts and Humanities had Santa Claus flip the switch Nov. 22 to light its Christmas tree on the lawn of the Emlen Physick Estate. Below left, MAC held an old-fashioned Christmas in the Carroll Gallery featuring model trains, toys and a giant tree. Below right, Haley and Matthew Pinto, of Wildwood, visit Santa.

County fire official dies after blaze

Treon, 62, complained of chest pains at scene of fire in N. Wildwood

Treon, 62, was a life-long member of Lower Cape May Fire Company No. 1. He had been the fire chief since June 1965. Before that, he had served as the assistant fire chief, taking the position of chief from 1963 to 1965. Treon held the office of vice president, president, lieutenant, captain and deputy chief. He was a lifelong member of the Lower Township Fire Department and was a chief instructor of the state’s Fire Service. He also served in the New York Guard during World War II.

Treon retired in 2007 after 45 years of service and helped establish Lower Cape May Fire Company No. 1 as a volunteer fire company. He served in a variety of roles, including captain, deputy chief, assistant fire chief and president. He was a former member of the Lower Township Volunteer Fire Company and was a member of the Lower Township Volunteer Fire Company Board of Directors. He was also a member of the Lower Township Volunteer Fire Company Board of Trustees.

Treon was the fire chief of Lower Cape May Fire Company No. 1 for 18 years, serving in various capacities including captain, deputy chief, assistant fire chief and president. He was also a member of the Lower Township Volunteer Fire Company Board of Directors and was a member of the Lower Township Volunteer Fire Company Board of Trustees.

Treon was remembered as a dedicated public servant who always put the needs of the community first. He was a true son of Lower Township and was deeply loved by all who knew him.

Lower Cape May Tonight

‘Lower Cape May Tonight’ debuts from LCMR studio

By JACK FICTHER

ERMA — Live from Erma, it’s ‘Lower Cape May Tonight’

The Lower Cape May Regional School District, in cooperation with the Cape May County Star and Wave, will offer a new program starting this fall. The program, called ‘Lower Cape May Tonight’, will air on Channel 9 from Lower Cape May Regional School District

The program will feature news, sports, weather and community events. It will also feature local school sports and activities.

The program will be broadcast from the studios of Lower Cape May Regional School District

‘Lower Cape May Tonight’ is a combination of a school and a community program. It will feature local news, sports and activities as well as local school sports and activities.

The program will be broadcast from the studios of Lower Cape May Regional School District. It will be available on Channel 9 from Lower Cape May Regional School District.