By KRISTEN KELLEHER
Cape May Star and Wave

Cape May OKs design rules in historic district

Standards intended to help maintain federal designation

By JEFF FITCHER
Cape May Star and Wave

Cape May — After nearly two years and many twists and turns, City Council unanimously banned the construction of new solar panels until next spring. The council banned solar panels until next spring. The council had reviewed the proposals for an HPC decision to the Zoning Board. The ordinance prohibits solar panels that are visible from the street, the historic district or on historic buildings outside the district. Solar panels must be placed on the rooftop and be slantable so that they can be tilted to the sun. The ordinance’s purpose is to ensure that solar collector placed on the exterior of the historic district are slantable so that they can be tilted to the sun. The ordinance’s purpose is to ensure that solar collector placed on the exterior of the historic district are slantable so that they can be tilted to the sun. The ordinance’s purpose is to ensure that solar collector placed on the exterior of the historic district are slantable so that they can be tilted to the sun.

By KRISTEN KELLEHER
Cape May Star and Wave

An American Red Cross truck outside a blood drive at the Ocean City Masonic Lodge last week.

Blood donations needed during holidays

By ERIC AVEDISSIAN
Cape May Star and Wave

The American Red Cross urges eligible donors to fi ve to prepare to become a Unit- Cape-Atlantic, Inc., (LVA) in the United States for prepare to become a citizen. Belar- rus, has driven to the Alex Safrygin, a native of Each week since February, LVA teaches citizenship, literacy in health, fi nance

By ERIC AVEDISSIAN
Cape May Star and Wave

An American Red Cross truck outside a blood drive at the Ocean City Masonic Lodge last week.

Blood donations needed during holidays

By ERIC AVEDISSIAN
Cape May Star and Wave

The American Red Cross urges eligible donors to fi ve to prepare to become a Unit- Cape-Atlantic, Inc., (LVA) in the United States for prepare to become a citizen. Belar- rus, has driven to the Alex Safrygin, a native of Each week since February, LVA teaches citizenship, literacy in health, fi nance

By KRISTEN KELLEHER
Cape May Star and Wave

Literacy tutors come from all walks of life, or who undergo long-term those with emergencies cans need blood transfu- sions every year, including