Lower Twp. Council moves to dissolve MUA

The split decision falls along party lines, with Republicans rejecting the measure.

By JACK FICTHER
Cape May Star and Wave
VILLAS — Lower Township Council voted 3-2 Monday to terminate the Municipal Utilities Authority (LTMUA) with immediate effect.

According to a report prepared for the township by Robert Swartz, a certified public accountant with Fred, Scott of Scotch Street, close to $1 million per year would be saved by taxpayers and ratepayers by shutting down the LTMUA and consolidating employees with the township's Public Works Department, according to a report prepared for the township by Rob Swartz, a certified public accountant with Fred Scott of Scotch Street.

The letter, sent by the county to dissolve the Lower Township Manager Mike Voll noted that LTMUA employees asked council to dissolve the LTMUA.

According to a report prepared for the township by Rob Swartz, a certified public accountant with Fred Scott of Scotch Street, about $1 million per year would be saved by taxpayers and ratepayers by shutting down the LTMUA and consolidating employees with the township's Public Works Department, according to a report prepared for the township by Rob Swartz, a certified public accountant with Fred Scott of Scotch Street.

The split decision falls along party lines, with Republicans rejecting the measure.

Lower Twp. Council moves to dissolve MUA

By JACK FICTHER
Cape May Star and Wave
VILLAS — Lower Township Council voted 3-2 Monday to terminate the Municipal Utilities Authority (LTMUA) with immediate effect.

According to a report prepared for the township by Robert Swartz, a certified public accountant with Fred, Scott of Scotch Street, close to $1 million per year would be saved by taxpayers and ratepayers by shutting down the LTMUA and consolidating employees with the township's Public Works Department, according to a report prepared for the township by Rob Swartz, a certified public accountant with Fred Scott of Scotch Street.

The letter, sent by the county to dissolve the Lower Township Manager Mike Voll noted that LTMUA employees asked council to dissolve the LTMUA.

According to a report prepared for the township by Rob Swartz, a certified public accountant with Fred Scott of Scotch Street, about $1 million per year would be saved by taxpayers and ratepayers by shutting down the LTMUA and consolidating employees with the township's Public Works Department, according to a report prepared for the township by Rob Swartz, a certified public accountant with Fred Scott of Scotch Street.