VILLAS — “In government, we’re all entitled to our own opinions. We’re not entitled to our own facts. “

Lower Township Deputy Mayor Nor- man Conrad commented on a letter he received from Lower Township Councilman Tom Conrad and Eric Simonsen that appeared in a local paper.

During a July 7 Lower Township Council meeting, Clark disputed a statement in that letter saying construction of a new police station next to Township Hall in Villas would lead to a tax increase for residents.

Clark said storm water drainage improvements would cost close to $4 million. The township had been frugal in its spending and the time is right for the Police Department to leave the public safety building at the county airport. According to a bond issue. She said an additional $7.1 million was encumbered for 2015. Lower Township Manager Mike Voll said of that amount of money.

“We brought him here last meeting,” Conrad commented that $7.1 million without requiring a tax increase. Beck said.

“We brought him here last meeting, just for that issue... that was three weeks ago... and you wrote the letter,” Beck said.
