Coast Guard
Continued from Page A1

Coast Guard

The Coast Guard announced a community-based youth baseball field project for the City of Cape May in May 2015. The project included a multipurpose field, equipment, and a practice baseball field and playground. The City Council approved a resolution to accept the subrecipient agreement with the New Jersey Economic Development Authority (EDA). Mayor Edward Mahaney said the city has until June 30, 2016, to complete phase one of the project, which has a price tag of $3.5 million.

"It was an outright grant, there were no strings attached," said the mayor. "The major cost phase one of the project involves half of the field being relocated from the site of the redeveloped Capewalk Shopping Center to the new site, and then we will fill in the rear and front playground areas. The project also includes purchase of a practice baseball field and playground, he said. Mahaney said the project is the only one being awarded a practice baseball field and playground, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. Mahaney said the project included a 25-year lease on a portion of the property that its design connects the active and passive recreation areas. The project won approval included landscaping and conceptual minimal maintenance. He said their intentions for phase one would be to adjust future phases of the project. He said the grant agreement allows for phases of the project renovates ball fields using the same techniques, including design, permitting and construction management of the project.

MacLeod said the project provides the opportunity to build a baseball field that will be a significant park to the city. He said the field will be a significant park to the city. The firm was founded in 1976 by Todd Prestigiacomo. MacLeod said the project will meet any residential, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. MacLeod said the project will be a significant park to the city. The firm was founded in 1976 by Todd Prestigiacomo.

Coast Guard
Continued from Page A1

Coast Guard

The Coast Guard announced a community-based youth baseball field project for the City of Cape May in May 2015. The project included a multipurpose field, equipment, and a practice baseball field and playground. The City Council approved a resolution to accept the subrecipient agreement with the New Jersey Economic Development Authority (EDA). Mayor Edward Mahaney said the city has until June 30, 2016, to complete phase one of the project, which has a price tag of $3.5 million.

"It was an outright grant, there were no strings attached," said the mayor. "The major cost phase one of the project involves half of the field being relocated from the site of the redeveloped Capewalk Shopping Center to the new site, and then we will fill in the rear and front playground areas. The project also includes purchase of a practice baseball field and playground, he said. Mahaney said the project is the only one being awarded a practice baseball field and playground, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. Mahaney said the project included a 25-year lease on a portion of the property that its design connects the active and passive recreation areas. The project won approval included landscaping and conceptual minimal maintenance. He said their intentions for phase one would be to adjust future phases of the project. He said the grant agreement allows for phases of the project renovates ball fields using the same techniques, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. MacLeod said the project provides the opportunity to build a baseball field that will be a significant park to the city. He said the field will be a significant park to the city. The firm was founded in 1976 by Todd Prestigiacomo. MacLeod said the project will meet any residential, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. MacLeod said the project will be a significant park to the city. The firm was founded in 1976 by Todd Prestigiacomo.

Coast Guard
Continued from Page A1

Coast Guard

The Coast Guard announced a community-based youth baseball field project for the City of Cape May in May 2015. The project included a multipurpose field, equipment, and a practice baseball field and playground. The City Council approved a resolution to accept the subrecipient agreement with the New Jersey Economic Development Authority (EDA). Mayor Edward Mahaney said the city has until June 30, 2016, to complete phase one of the project, which has a price tag of $3.5 million.

"It was an outright grant, there were no strings attached," said the mayor. "The major cost phase one of the project involves half of the field being relocated from the site of the redeveloped Capewalk Shopping Center to the new site, and then we will fill in the rear and front playground areas. The project also includes purchase of a practice baseball field and playground, he said. Mahaney said the project is the only one being awarded a practice baseball field and playground, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. MacLeod said the project provides the opportunity to build a baseball field that will be a significant park to the city. He said the field will be a significant park to the city. The firm was founded in 1976 by Todd Prestigiacomo. MacLeod said the project will meet any residential, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. MacLeod said the project will be a significant park to the city. The firm was founded in 1976 by Todd Prestigiacomo.

Coast Guard
Continued from Page A1

Coast Guard

The Coast Guard announced a community-based youth baseball field project for the City of Cape May in May 2015. The project included a multipurpose field, equipment, and a practice baseball field and playground. The City Council approved a resolution to accept the subrecipient agreement with the New Jersey Economic Development Authority (EDA). Mayor Edward Mahaney said the city has until June 30, 2016, to complete phase one of the project, which has a price tag of $3.5 million.

"It was an outright grant, there were no strings attached," said the mayor. "The major cost phase one of the project involves half of the field being relocated from the site of the redeveloped Capewalk Shopping Center to the new site, and then we will fill in the rear and front playground areas. The project also includes purchase of a practice baseball field and playground, he said. Mahaney said the project is the only one being awarded a practice baseball field and playground, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. MacLeod said the project provides the opportunity to build a baseball field that will be a significant park to the city. He said the field will be a significant park to the city. The firm was founded in 1976 by Todd Prestigiacomo. MacLeod said the project will meet any residential, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. MacLeod said the project will be a significant park to the city. The firm was founded in 1976 by Todd Prestigiacomo.

Coast Guard
Continued from Page A1

Coast Guard

The Coast Guard announced a community-based youth baseball field project for the City of Cape May in May 2015. The project included a multipurpose field, equipment, and a practice baseball field and playground. The City Council approved a resolution to accept the subrecipient agreement with the New Jersey Economic Development Authority (EDA). Mayor Edward Mahaney said the city has until June 30, 2016, to complete phase one of the project, which has a price tag of $3.5 million.

"It was an outright grant, there were no strings attached," said the mayor. "The major cost phase one of the project involves half of the field being relocated from the site of the redeveloped Capewalk Shopping Center to the new site, and then we will fill in the rear and front playground areas. The project also includes purchase of a practice baseball field and playground, he said. Mahaney said the project is the only one being awarded a practice baseball field and playground, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. MacLeod said the project provides the opportunity to build a baseball field that will be a significant park to the city. He said the field will be a significant park to the city. The firm was founded in 1976 by Todd Prestigiacomo. MacLeod said the project will meet any residential, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. MacLeod said the project will be a significant park to the city. The firm was founded in 1976 by Todd Prestigiacomo.

Coast Guard
Continued from Page A1

Coast Guard

The Coast Guard announced a community-based youth baseball field project for the City of Cape May in May 2015. The project included a multipurpose field, equipment, and a practice baseball field and playground. The City Council approved a resolution to accept the subrecipient agreement with the New Jersey Economic Development Authority (EDA). Mayor Edward Mahaney said the city has until June 30, 2016, to complete phase one of the project, which has a price tag of $3.5 million.

"It was an outright grant, there were no strings attached," said the mayor. "The major cost phase one of the project involves half of the field being relocated from the site of the redeveloped Capewalk Shopping Center to the new site, and then we will fill in the rear and front playground areas. The project also includes purchase of a practice baseball field and playground, he said. Mahaney said the project is the only one being awarded a practice baseball field and playground, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. MacLeod said the project provides the opportunity to build a baseball field that will be a significant park to the city. He said the field will be a significant park to the city. The firm was founded in 1976 by Todd Prestigiacomo. MacLeod said the project will meet any residential, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. MacLeod said the project will be a significant park to the city. The firm was founded in 1976 by Todd Prestigiacomo.

Coast Guard
Continued from Page A1

Coast Guard

The Coast Guard announced a community-based youth baseball field project for the City of Cape May in May 2015. The project included a multipurpose field, equipment, and a practice baseball field and playground. The City Council approved a resolution to accept the subrecipient agreement with the New Jersey Economic Development Authority (EDA). Mayor Edward Mahaney said the city has until June 30, 2016, to complete phase one of the project, which has a price tag of $3.5 million.

"It was an outright grant, there were no strings attached," said the mayor. "The major cost phase one of the project involves half of the field being relocated from the site of the redeveloped Capewalk Shopping Center to the new site, and then we will fill in the rear and front playground areas. The project also includes purchase of a practice baseball field and playground, he said. Mahaney said the project is the only one being awarded a practice baseball field and playground, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. MacLeod said the project provides the opportunity to build a baseball field that will be a significant park to the city. He said the field will be a significant park to the city. The firm was founded in 1976 by Todd Prestigiacomo. MacLeod said the project will meet any residential, including design, permitting and construction management of the project. MacLeod said the project will be a significant park to the city. The firm was founded in 1976 by Todd Prestigiacomo.