Vehicle crashes into building in W. Cape May

Pessagno seeking Cape May City Council seat

CAPE MAY — Beatrice Gauvry Pessagno is running for a seat on the Cape May City Council.

Pessagno, a 63-year-old resident of Cape May Township, said she is running with the tradition of commitment and service to Cape May. I am seeking a seat on the Cape May City Council because of what I have enjoyed the opportunity that Cape May offers, a secure and vital community in which to raise a family and build a business and who is committed to creating these same opportunities for the next generation of families and entrepreneurs.

Pessagno is also a Cape May County Board of Education member and is a member of the Student Assessment Committee. She is a member of the Environmental Committee of Cape May, and is a member of the Professional Education Committee.

Pessagno is a 1971 graduate of Trinity College, with a degree in literature. She went on to attend Trinity College’s School of Education and Wildwood Catholic High School.

Pessagno returned to teaching in 1980. She remains active in the education community, serving on the executive board of the Cape May County School District, and on the New Jersey School for the Deaf.

Pessagno is a lifelong Cape May resident who has enjoyed the opportunities that Cape May offers. She has lived in Cape May since 1980. I am running for a seat on the Cape May City Council because I am committed to ensuring those opportunities that Cape May offers, a secure and vital community in which to raise a family and build a business and who is committed to creating these same opportunities for the next generation of families and entrepreneurs.

Pessagno is also a member of the Cape May County Board of Education, and is a member of the Student Assessment Committee. She is a member of the Environmental Committee of Cape May, and is a member of the Professional Education Committee.

Pessagno is a 1971 graduate of Trinity College, with a degree in literature. She went on to attend Trinity College’s School of Education and Wildwood Catholic High School.

Pessagno returned to teaching in 1980. She remains active in the education community, serving on the executive board of the Cape May County School District, and on the New Jersey School for the Deaf.

Pessagno is a lifelong Cape May resident who has enjoyed the opportunities that Cape May offers. She has lived in Cape May since 1980. I am running for a seat on the Cape May City Council because I am committed to ensuring those opportunities that Cape May offers, a secure and vital community in which to raise a family and build a business and who is committed to creating these same opportunities for the next generation of families and entrepreneurs.

Pessagno is also a member of the Cape May County Board of Education, and is a member of the Student Assessment Committee. She is a member of the Environmental Committee of Cape May, and is a member of the Professional Education Committee.

Pessagno is a 1971 graduate of Trinity College, with a degree in literature. She went on to attend Trinity College’s School of Education and Wildwood Catholic High School.

Pessagno returned to teaching in 1980. She remains active in the education community, serving on the executive board of the Cape May County School District, and on the New Jersey School for the Deaf.

Pessagno is a lifelong Cape May resident who has enjoyed the opportunities that Cape May offers. She has lived in Cape May since 1980. I am running for a seat on the Cape May City Council because I am committed to ensuring those opportunities that Cape May offers, a secure and vital community in which to raise a family and build a business and who is committed to creating these same opportunities for the next generation of families and entrepreneurs.