thorough and thoughtful." He added that the ordinance was presented to council for its assistance and cooperation. The ordinance was picked up by the Associated Press and distributed nationwide.

“Well, good luck,” said Tecitelman. “If you care about our families, do your job. Some of our kids are hurting. I think these kinds of incidents are being made up. I’m glad the word is out about the hazards of the behavior and we’re going to continue to work with our families and law enforcement and do everything we can to keep our kids safe and out of trouble.”
